

Story of AuSable River Canoe Trip

(By Glenn MacDonald, Bay City Daily Times Correspondent)

This was the night before Grayling's annual summer festival and there were hundreds of folks from miles around who had to come to inquire about a trip down the majestic AuSable river, whose serpentine course winds through divers counties from here to Lake Huron.

Harold (Spike) McNeven, who serves as general chairman of these affairs, said tonight that they had been swamped with reservations, but that all indications pointed to several being left stranded because motor trucks had been traversing a radius of fifty miles the past two days looking for boats and not too many had been found.

Continue Search For Boats
Still, the genial Mr. McNeven said his trucks would continue their operations all night, and it was expected the operations would be extended to an 85-mile circle in an effort to accommodate the folks who already have signified their desire to take this trip down the main stream of this world-famous stream.

Up to this evening, the committee had received reservations from nature lovers from as far south as Columbus, Ohio. Meanwhile there were scores from Bay City, Saginaw, Flint, Detroit, Toledo, and elsewhere, all seeking places in this flotilla that will carry them from Grayling to the confluence of North Branch and main stream of this river, which in years past has attracted many to its rippling waters.

There were prize fights here tonight, involving a bunch of husky CCC lads, that attracted a throng of customers to the court house lawn. A negro lad, who showed signs of pugilistic sense, was the hero.

Beforehand, as an afternoon attraction, there were many contests, most important of which was the greased pig affair.

The question of who got who or how seemed to make little difference as old settlers and summer residents, yipped and yelled about their widely varied efforts.

River Parade Big Event

All told it didn't seem to make a great deal of difference who won or who lost, for it was all leading up to Sunday's boat parade down river. This, after all, was the story. Folks had come here from many places outside, others had flocked here from a radius of 150 miles. They, one way or the other, were the ones to be considered, and the men in charge, were doing their utmost to satisfy their guests.

The fact that the weather man forecast favorable weather was a favorable forecast for Sunday. It cheered the carnival bosses, and as for their visitors, they really needed no cheering—the thoughts of the Sunday trip down the AuSable, with its many bends and side-lined shores, was anticipated enough for them, to say or think nothing of the weather that might come.

A Man Without His Home Town Paper

4th of July In the Philippines

(By Lt. RUSSELL E. BATES)

Philippine Islands, July 5, 1934.

Dear Ones:

Yesterday was a big day. Manila celebrated the Fourth of July in a very fitting manner, with the largest, most impressive military and semi-military parade I have ever seen. Whether it was a gesture intended to impress people with our army here, I do not know, but the result should have been satisfactory, as it was a very fine display of troops.

Quoting from the Manila Bulletin, "A mammoth military parade, a thrilling aerial maneuver by scores of airplanes, an inspiring talk by Major General Frank L. Parker, commanding the Philippine Department, combined with the first good Fourth of July weather in seven years, served to make yesterday's Independence Day celebration one of the best ever observed in Manila. The parade, the biggest military parade seen in Manila in fifteen years, was participated in by units from all branches of the U. S. Army troops stationed in the Philippines."

One of the most famous spots in Manila is the Luneta, a large park bordering on the bay, and according to landmarks I can recognize, lying between the Army and Navy Club and the Manila Hotel. In the old days, the Luneta used to be the meeting place of the elite of the city. Regular afternoon band concerts were sufficient cause to bring out the best Sunday clothes in order to promenade or drive around in carriages. But the old days never saw the Luneta more thronged with people of all ages, nationalities and color in their best regalia, than was the new Luneta yesterday. A large platform had been erected on the road crossing the park, and there were assembled all the dignitaries in this vicinity including Gov. Gen. Frank Murphy, his cabinet, other "politicos," and all the high ranking military and naval officers. The decorations looked a bit unusual, for altho the Philippine flag is also red, white and blue, its appearance combined with our own flag seemed strange. Any place where bunting could be strung or where the two flags could be placed was taken advantage of, and of course made a most colorful scene when combined with the tropical scenery and the large crowd that filled the Luneta.

Promptly at nine o'clock the Grand Marshal, Maj. Gen. Cochen commander of the Philippine Division and his staff appeared, leading the parade, and at the grand stand, dismounted and took their places with the other "brass hats." The 31st Infantry band swung out of line opposite the stands, and following them came their regiment in two massed battalions. Each battalion had the three rifle companies massed abreast and followed by the M. G. companies. In general, each regiment carried their colors between and separating the battalions. All dismounted troops marched with bayonets fixed.

Following the 31st Infantry came my regiment, the 50th C. A. then the 60th C. A. also from Fort Mills. The 46th Infantry followed and after them the 57th Infantry, both Philippine scout regiments. They were followed by the Filipino troops from Corregidor, the 91st and 92nd C. A. regiments. All of the Coast Artillery marched as Infantry as it would have been a bit inconvenient to have come as artillery and packed a couple of big guns. Then came the cavalry their pistols in their hands. They were rough and hard to command. The 26th Cavalry that followed didn't carry pistols but did pack rifles. Their machine gun troop was especially worth while, and interesting, carrying as they did, their machine rifles, one-pounders, and trench mortars. But the show was stolen when the two battalions of the tractor drawn 24th Field Artillery rolled past. Each battalion was composed of three batteries, each battery of four guns, each gun included the tractor, limber and gun.

Last came the special troops, the 12th medical regiment, 12th Signal Co., and the 14th Engineer regiment all carrying the equipment of their particular unit. The army regiments all had their own bands and altogether with the other outfits there must have been around twenty bands and bugle corps. We heard plenty of marches. Even the Navy had a band and as could be expected they were playing "Anchors Aweigh." The Navy and the Marines both had detachments that followed the Army section.

While the Army troops were interesting to me, marched perfectly, were uniformly and smartly dressed, or at least as smartly as they could be after a couple miles of marching in the tropical sun, the most interesting part of the parade followed. The veterans were next in order of march. Two white-haired men marching as spryly as they could, made up the Civil War section. Some hundred and fifty men were in the Spanish War section and about the same in the group who saw service in the Philippine Insurrection and then about four hundred veterans of the World War.

Marching proudly after the Legionnaires, came the survivors of four companies of Macabebes Scouts. You may remember at the time of the Insurrection here, the Macabebes were the only Filipinos who remained faithful and loyal to the U. S. and in whom any trust could be placed. It was thru their efforts that the Insurrection ended as soon as it did. Peculiarly while their veterans were wonderful fighters and being pensioned live in comparative luxury, their sons make poor soldiers, for the luxury spoiled them.

Then came the massed colors of the regiments of Filipino Insurrectos, some thirty of them, and then the long column of the survivors of those regiments. Line after line passed all wearing the blue uniform they were nearly thirty years ago when they rose in revolt against America's government in these islands. The same feeling must be present when one sees a confederate parade, the realization that these men that are marching past fought for that which they thought was right, fought against oppression and aggrandizement, fought for their homes, country and liberty. What a charge that placed on the American nation, to prove to these same veterans that altho we defeated them, that it was best for them and that we are providing for them something they would otherwise not have had; a country capable of self government and a people who are healthy and educated. How well we have fulfilled that charge remains yet to be seen.

Recreational Program Broke To Close

The recreational program was brought to a close when twenty-three boys and girls held a picnic at Kyle Lake last Friday. Swimming and games were enjoyed before the "ducks" were roasted and a baseball game was in order for the afternoon.

On June 26 the S.K.R.A. program was started in Grayling as in nearly every other city and town not only in Michigan but in the other states as well. Due to the abruptness that was necessary in order to start the program on schedule few people knew of it. The first day our enrollment totaled only eighty-eight. However the Kaito theatre, the Avalanche and the Postoffice advertised the program in fine shape. Soon we had 170 boys and girls participating. Miss Reagan worked out a program at the South Side in addition to her regular work and during the last half of the schedule 211 young folks enjoyed its benefits besides several visitors who asked to join in for a week or two.

As the program swung into full force soft ball games were scheduled with Gaylord. Swimming, tennis, field, and boxing matches were sought but none of the reachable towns included these in their work.

The boys soft ball team won two games from the "Dads" and lost two to Gaylord ending up the season with an even break. The girls easily won two from Gaylord, ending with a perfect average.

Every afternoon a swimming class was transported to Lake Margrethe. Kenneth Gochro, the swimming instructor, states that several of the swimmers are ready for their beginners and swimmers tests.

Tap dancing and the story hour proved popular with the girls and little tots. Miss Reagan, who is specializing in these things at the University of Michigan, handled her part of the program in fine style.

Father Culligan donated the use of the tennis court each forenoon which enabled us to include a twenty-six match tournament besides the regular matches. Twenty-two boys and girls entered in five classes. The winners are now enjoying new tennis balls.

The people of Grayling are to be commended upon their ability to see the value of keeping our children occupied during the summer and on entering wholeheartedly into keeping them busy. We wish to thank those who used their cars, time and material in making this program a success.

Our National Government has started a worthy project by advancing the necessary funds for summer programs throughout the country. Whether or not the government continues on next summer with a similar program, we hope Grayling can and thus remain a par in offering advantages usually found only in the larger cities.

This program was under the able direction of Frank L. Bond, science teacher in our schools. He worked hard and it was largely through his efforts that the program was the success it proved to be. He richly deserves a lot of credit from the public for the manner in which this fine recreational program was handled.

Grange Notes

Saturday was a big day for Crawford Grange when thirty-four guests from Manton came to assist in the afternoon's work. Nearly ninety were served at the dinner, held in the Odd Fellow Temple.

When the first floor of the Temple had been prepared the Degree team from Manton conducted the instructions of the third and fourth degrees to a class of eighteen new members of our Grange.

This was beautiful, even beyond our expectation. Conducted by their Captain, Mr. Alfred Culver, the marches and drills added very much to the beauty of the ritual work.

Miss Ruth Stewart and Mr. Edward Howe led the Harvest march.

Seven ladies presented sixteen tableaux that were wonderful, representing scenes from Grange lessons, they gave the finishing touch to the initiation, adding inspiration that could be given in no other way. These were given on the stage at correct intervals in the work.

Appropriate music and songs by the pianist were lovely. At the close of the meeting interesting talks were given by Mr. Culver and Mr. Fenton regarding their Degree team. Our members were deeply impressed and are determined to make the most of the lessons learned from our Manton visitors. We extend to them our sincerest thanks and appreciation for their coming to us.

The members of the degree team who are very proficient, and have many engagements to demonstrate the work among other Granges were:

Master, Howard McDaniels; Overseer, Harold Stewart; Secy., W. J. Collier; Treas., Mrs. Esta Leach; Chaplain, Mrs. Roy Gaunt; Lecturer, Mrs. Howard McDaniels; Steward, Dale McDaniels; Asst. Steward, Alfred Fenton; L. Asst. Steward, Mrs. Hazel Fenton.

Gatekeeper, Herbert Stewart; Ceres, Mrs. Lillie Collier; Pomona, Mrs. May Culver; Flora, Mrs. Ellen Jensen.

Ladies of the tableaux were: Mrs. Adron Nye, Mrs. Etelle Howe, Mrs. Geo. McDaniels, Mrs. Herman Fales, Mrs. Lester Fales, Mrs. H. Skidmore, Mrs. Viola Olney.

Others from Manton were Mr. Chas. Olney, H. Skidmore, Carl Hauser, Lester Fales, Adron Nye, Albert Gentile, Herman Fales, Misses Ardith, Dorothy and Helen Nye.

REWARD

Large sample pictures in frames have been stolen from the show case in front of our studio repeatedly, and we hereby offer a reward for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties. This is breaking and entering and the parties should be apprehended. A. J. Trudeau.

THERE are some people who fully believed that on the morning of August 16th their hay fever would be upon them. Weather and other conditions don't seem to make any difference and they are just going ahead and have hay fever anyway. Certainly this is not true with all sufferers of that disease. When it comes it comes, and dates don't make any difference. Already a number of people are arriving in Grayling to escape hay fever; here they seem to find relief. And now is the time to get busy and cut or remove all weeds around the town. Certain kinds of weeds affect hay fever sufferers, so let's get busy and get rid of them. All along our streets weeds are growing rank. At least those outside of the sidewalks should be cut. Around telephone poles seem to be favorite places to grow. This should be good welfare work.

PIONEER COUNTY RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Martha Buck, an esteemed resident of Crawford County since 1879 and who had passed her 90th milestone, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Vallad, Thursday night. Mrs. Buck who had been ill for a couple of months due to the infirmities of old age, previous to that time had been most active.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon with services at the M. P. church in Frederic and the deceased's grandson Rev. James Thompson officiated. She was laid to rest in the Maple Forest cemetery, other grandsons acting as pallbearers: Warren, Norman and Russell Vallad, Harold and James Buck and Clyde and Clarence Thompson.

Born in Jefferson County, Ohio, May 5, 1844, Martha Beebe moved with her parents to Michigan and they settled in Fenton, where she resided until her marriage to Holloway Buck in 1863. They came to Crawford county in 1879 and settled on a homestead in Maple Forest. Six children were born to them, two of whom have preceded her. Blanche who passed away in infancy and Mrs. Lena Boddy, who passed away in Battle Creek two years ago.

They resided on the farm until Mr. Buck's death in 1909 and since that time she had made her home among her children. Mrs. Buck belonged to the Pilgrim Holiness church having united with the church in early life. She leaves many pleasant memories which will be cherished by her family for a long time to come, for she was a very kind and loving mother.

Surviving the deceased is one daughter and three sons, Mrs. Gilbert Vallad, Grayling; Amos Buck, Houghton Lake; James Buck, Detroit and C. B. Buck, Bay City, also 15 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Nancy Gates, Fenton, all of whom have the sympathy of many in their sorrow.

Buck and Mr. and Mrs. James DeFrain and two sons and Mrs. Ella Morrison, Bay City; Mrs. Nancy Gates, Fenton; Mrs. Seeley Randall, Flint; Rev. and Mrs. James Thompson, Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. G. G. O'Connor, Battle Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Buck, Houghton Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buck, Higgins Lake; Norman Vallad, Roscommon; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Vallad and Clarence and Clyde Thompson, Kalkaska.

that maintain military units. First came a battalion from the University of the Philippines dressed in khaki and spiked helmets and composed of three companies of infantry and one battery of truck drawn artillery. Next was the Ateneo de Manila four companies of infantry in white duck long trousers uniforms and then three companies of infantry from Letran University wearing blue coats and white trousers. Each of course had their own band and bugle corps. After them followed the cadets or perhaps midshipmen from a navigation school. Then a group of nurses from a hospital and last but not least two councils of boy scouts, each composed of twelve troops, all Filipino boys. Winding up the parade were a couple floats of the Red Cross, the drive now being on for membership.

The parade took just an hour. It was a display that I was fortunate to witness and that I will not soon forget. As the last float passed the stand, six bombers appeared and passed in review, they were followed by two squadrons of nine planes, one attack and one pursuit squadron. The pursuit squadron returned in a V-formation and then came back in a straight line changing again into a column as they climbed to about two thousand feet, then power dive to within about fifty feet of the ground. They were very pretty formations and skillfully executed (even if they couldn't fly air mail).

Then followed "The Star Spangled Banner" from a group of massed bands, an invocation and then General Parker gave a wonderful talk on American ideals. You can see that the we are thousands of miles away still we also celebrate the Fourth and in a way so similar to American ways that I might have believed myself home, except for seeing the crowd that watched the parade. They also enjoyed it I am sure, for I never hope to enjoy that day any more than I did yesterday.

I am sure that most of the people reviewing the parade didn't realize the amount of inconvenience, effort and labor the Army put into it. The troops from Fort Mills had to get up at 2:30 and get loaded on the three boats and immediately after the parade returned home. The cavalry had to travel 75 miles in two days and two days return and the Field artillery took three days. It was good training but terrible weather except the morning of the parade. However, extra rations and passes to go in to the city made up for all the trouble.

RICHARD LOVELY MARRIES BAY CITY GIRL

In a white crepe gown with cowl neckline and full sleeves, complemented by a large brimmed crepe hat and a shower bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and swansonia, Miss Olive Marie LaVictoire became the bride of Richard Lovely, of Grayling, Saturday morning at St. Joseph's church. The Rev. Fr. George Vincent officiated.

Miss Ruth LaVictoire and Miss Veronica Lovely, of Grayling, were bridesmaids. Their nile green crepe frocks were floor-length and fashioned with capelet sleeves and V-back, with which they were matching crepe off-the-face hats. Pink roses and pink asters formed their arm bouquets. Floyd Lovely, of Grayling, and Cyril LaVictoire attended the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to 45 guests at the home of the bride's parents; white bouquets of asters centered the tables appointed with green tapers in white holders.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovely will spend this week in Chicago and Grand Rapids after which they will make their home in Grayling. Mrs. Lovely's going-away ensemble of dark brown crepe was trimmed with eggshell taffeta and she wore matching accessories.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lovely and Clement Blaine, of Grayling; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Freuchtel and Ray Gilson of Saginaw, and Mr. and Mrs. Isadore LaVictoire of Mt. Morris.

Mrs. Lovely is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon LaVictoire of North Henry road; Mr. Lovely is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lovely, of Grayling.—Bay City Daily Times.

The young couple have the congratulations and best wishes of the groom's many friends.

Grayling Band attended the band picnic at Beaverfoot last Sunday, where they had a very enjoyable time. Most of the Band members took their families along and there was a fine large crowd in all. Some of the local fellows, Jack Clark, Oliver Cody, Sam Smith, Will Heric and Earl Stafford dressed up for the occasion and formed a German band, which added to the fun. Everyone reported having a very pleasant day.

People living in the midst of the drought region of the west might do well to look into the favorable agricultural region of Michigan. We know of several good farms that may be purchased at a very low price in Maple Forest township, where the soil is excellent and in fine neighborhoods with good schools. It would be a good thing if some of these drought-stricken farmers would come to Crawford county where conditions are universally good.

One of the prettiest spots on the Ausable was the scene of the sixth annual picnic of the Eastern Stars yesterday. It was held at the usual place, the home of Mrs. Grant Shaw and a very pleasant day was spent by the 32 ladies who were there. They left at about ten o'clock in the forenoon and at noon the big pot luck dinner was spread and highly enjoyed. The day was just right for a picnic, the air invigorating, so most of the ladies roamed the woods near the river, spending most of the time in the out-of-doors.

A new traffic light at Michigan avenue and U. S. 27 was installed last week. It is of the "blinker" system, with yellow lenses facing the thru highway and red facing the Main street traffic. There is no longer reason why people should not understand that traffic regulations should be observed here. Thru cars on the trunk line are not required to come to a complete stop but there should be a decided slowing up of cars. Cars crossing that highway should come to a complete stop. Cars making right hand turns do not have to stop except to avoid thru trunk line cars.

PETTY THEIEVRY

On several occasions framed and unframed pictures have been stolen from the display case at the Trudeau Photo studio. The display case is in front of the studio and easily accessible from the street. While it is under lock still it seems that some people haven't the sense of honesty to realize that the act is a felony. It constitutes an act of "breaking and entering" and is punishable by imprisonment in state prison.

The display case frequently displays some valuable framed pictures and, when stolen, is not only the cause of considerable annoyance but involves considerable monetary loss as well. An enlarged framed colored picture was stolen from the case Tuesday night and Mr. Trudeau is offering a reward for the apprehension of the guilty party.

Plans returned within 5 days following the opening of bids, one-half of the above deposits will be refunded.

On items other than the distribution system, proposal forms and plans, where necessary, may be obtained by making a payment of $1.00 for each item, no part of which will be refunded.

All proposals must be made on the forms furnished by the Village.

Eugene Black to "Sell" New Deal to the Banks— President Warns Against Food Profiteering— Cotton Textile Strike Voted.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© by Western Newspaper Union

EUGENE B. BLACK, resigned as governor of the Federal Reserve Board, and President Roosevelt has given him a new position.

contact officer between the banks and the government. This means that Mr. Black is expected to "sell" the New Deal to the financial institutions, which in the past have been among the severest critics of many features of the President's program for recovery.

He returns to his former position of governor of the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank which he left in May, 1933, to assume the direction of the whole reserve system.

Mr. Black himself said his new assignment is "to muster the strength of our financial institutions behind recovery in America." Some observers in Washington thought the move indicated that the administration was going to make another attempt to thaw out the vast sums in commercial credits that are lying idle in the banks.

"You can do much good," President Roosevelt wrote Black in accepting his resignation, "by presenting the recovery program to the country's reserve banks, commercial banks and other financial institutions, by acquainting them with the successive steps taken by the administration which have resulted in the present prosperous condition of these institutions and which make possible their co-operation with the administration in its program of complete business rehabilitation."

Among those mentioned as likely to succeed Black as governor of the federal reserve board was Marriner B. Eccles, Utah banker, who is now a special assistant to Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau. He is close to Rexford Guy Tugwell.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, it turns out, is not at all dismayed by the catastrophe drouth that has afflicted a large part of the country. To the White House correspondents he indicated his belief that the drouth was in a way a blessing, in that it was wiping out farm surpluses two years sooner than could have been done by the Wallace crop reduction plan. He expressed the belief that there will be plenty of food for all, and made it clear that the administration would not stand for any profiteering in food prices or grain speculation to the detriment of the farmer and the public. "Chiselers," it was promised, will be promptly and severely punished.

The federal grain futures administration directed by J. M. Mehl, it was revealed, is watching grain trading closely. The first evidence of manipulation will bring punitive action.

The consumers council of the AAA under Dr. Frederic C. Howe, is charting food prices. Housewives will be warned of any increase out of line with market supplies.

Secretary Wallace has admitted that there will necessarily be increases in food prices, and figures released by his department show they are already beginning to go higher. A gradual increase until next summer is expected.

WHILE Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator, is vacationing in Europe, his place is taken by Aubrey Williams, his assistant.

Mr. Williams has been in conference with the President, laying out the plans for drouth relief and the conservation of food supplies. Among the first things the relief administration will do is to buy up hay and fruit that others will not want.

Hay, on public lands also will be cut and baled. The complete program was being formulated by Mr. Williams and Secretary Wallace. It was expected that this would include expenditure of $200,000,000, left in the special drouth appropriation, and distribution of food, and clothing to the needy by the surplus relief corporation. Aid for live stock is to be provided.

Mr. Roosevelt is so busy that the relief administration will be kept clear of politics. At his suggestion, telegrams were sent to relief directors and workers everywhere, telling them to keep out of partisan politics and to resign if they wish to run for office.

One of the plans that is being worked out by Mr. Williams is the mobilization of 40,000 unemployed school teachers, next winter, in a campaign against illiteracy and to the work for jobs when prosperity returns. The program includes vocational training, vocational rehabilitation, general adult education and nursery schools.

UNLESS President Roosevelt can prevent it, about half a million workers in the cotton textile industry will be on strike on or about September 1, because they are utterly dissatisfied with their NRA code. The convention of the United Textile Workers of America in New York voted mandatory instructions to the union's executive council to call this general strike, and if it goes into effect it may later spread to other branches of the industry, involving an additional 250,000.

Leaders in the strike movement are Norman Thomas, former Socialist candidate for President, and the younger element in the union.

The specific aim will be to obtain a reopening of the textile code and its revision along lines demanded by the union. Demands will be made for the 30-hour week with 40-hour pay, elimination of the stretch-out system with corresponding readjustment of machine loads, and a universal system of collective bargaining on the basis of free choice of representatives by the workers.

Support of the strike by the American Federation of Labor was promised by George Goode, who appeared before the convention as a representative of President William Green of the A. F. of L. Goode expressed the hope, however, that timely intervention by President Roosevelt will avert the strike and give the workers the relief they are demanding.

RELATIONS between Russia and Japan have been further strained by the arrest of 17 Soviet subjects, all officials and employees of the Chinese Eastern railway, by Manchukuo authorities. They are accused of plotting against Manchukuo and Japan and of being in collusion with bandits in recent attacks on the railway. The Russian council of ministers at Harbin, China, demanded the release of the prisoners in Moscow the arrests gave rise to rumors that Japan was preparing to declare military law and take over the railway, the sale of which has long been a subject of fruitless negotiation.

While those in direct charge of the canoe carnival deserve a lot of community gratitude for their efforts, yet there are many others whom likewise did much to make the affair a success. Someone had to gather in the boats and return them to their owners, and others helped in the launching, and a lot of other necessary jobs were done. And boat owners loaned their crafts, guides did their jobs, and there are a lot of other people deserving of credit. It would be quite impossible to mention all names without doing someone an injustice by leaving them out. It was splendid community work and we feel certain that just about everyone has a sense of gratitude for this fine assistance.

The exceptional popularity which Chevrolet has enjoyed for many years has naturally had its effect on Chevrolet prices. Large sales have enabled Chevrolet to maintain consistently low purchase prices, which were recently lowered even further. As a result Chevrolet now offers you the lowest priced six-cylinder automobile obtainable—a big, comfortable car with Fisher Body styling and refinement—safe, weatherproof, cable-controlled brakes—the smoothness and economy of a valve-in-head, six-cylinder engine—and typical Chevrolet dependability. In offering this car, and the Master models, at substantially lower prices, Chevrolet hopes to repay the motoring public in some measure, for consistently placing Chevrolet so high in public favor.

Nineteen ladies spent the afternoon with Grandma Husted last Monday to help her celebrate her 91st birthday. But Grandma said she felt like 16. We must admit she did act more like 16 than 91. The time was spent in playing games, after which ice cream and cake were served. The birthday cake was very pretty. All the ladies had their picture taken with Grandma.

This Big Company's policy of equitable adjustment of claims and prompt payment of losses commends it to Michigan property owners.

Many property owners without Windstorm Insurance SUFFERED HEAVY LOSS!

Had they carried Windstorm Insurance with this old Company they would have been protected. The cost has been less than 7 cents per $100 per year since the Company was organized 50 years ago.

This was one of the worst windstorms that has ever visited Michigan. No property owner is secure without ample Windstorm Insurance, because just such a cyclone as this may strike any time without warning.
